Re: British Science Week 2023

Dear Parent/Guardian:

The Science department will be hosting a week of entertaining and engaging activities to celebrate British Science Week 2023 starting March 13-17. This year's theme is Connections and students will be given the opportunity to engage in activities that help them to make varied connections in their everyday life. From the learning of new skills to the development of places and ideas that enable us to do things more efficiently in our everyday lives, connections are everywhere!

Some of the activities the girls will participate in include year assemblies, form time quizzes, poster competition, designing storyboards, fun after school investigations, just to name a few. Students will be awarded house points for their participation in the various activities, gift card/voucher awarded for poster competition winners and certificates for participation in various activities.

During this week of celebrations, you can get involved by exploring the outdoors with your daughter and documenting connections that you encounter. These may be in building structures, connections between animals, in nature, amongst people etc. You can take pictures and we'll provide opportunities for these to be shared.

We would also love to have some representatives from our parent body to come in and share their experiences of connections. For example, was there a special connection that you made when you started your career, or does connection play a special role in your career? We are making a special request to parents to support this week of activities in any way possible. If you are knowledgeable of or have careers that involve Science or any other STEM area and can come in as a resource personnel for a few hours, we would appreciate your assistance.

If you are keen to participate in any way, please contact the school via email or telephone as per below:
